Vanessa, this is my first shot at trying to prepare some direction to recommend on how to handle BMPs. I have tried to summarize what BMPs are, the prescribed format, and the steps I suggest on adding new ones or making changes to the existing ones. If you, John and Comer agree that this is generally where we need to head, I suggest we get this draft out to WG4 and ask for their thoughts as to whether this is headed in the right direction. I think we need to first be sure we are generally headed the right way before we get down to reviewing the document in any detail. Maybe we can get some initial feedback from them on Wednesday offline on their general impressions.

I am not at my regular computer so don't have Comer and John's e-mail addresses handy. Could you please forward. Thanks.
